Basic Getting Started

Beginners and all 1st time Dual Sport event riders need to verify their bike setup and preparation, learn or confirm their GPS Navigation skills, and determine their level of riding skills and physical stamina. This must be done before committing to any of the longer more serious 2-Day rides. It is not smart or safe to get in over your head. These riders should begin with the short loops at Countdown rides, 1-Day Loop rides such as the Ride-for-Kids, or the D37 Lost Coyotes. These rides also offer a much better chance to meet other riders with similar riding skills and experience.

Experienced Rider Getting Started

First time Dual Sport event riders who consider themselves solid Intermediate riders who have actual experience riding at least 25 miles without a break and 75 miles in a day, should try the January Hi Desert 250 Short loops. Before tackling one of the serious 2-Day 250 mile rides, you need to make sure your technical riding skills and more so that your physical stamina is up to the demands of these long rides.

Bike Size vs. Skill vs. Route

Some Countdown rides offer either a standard Dual Sport route or an Adv bike route. The Dual Sport route is intended for very experienced Intermediates minimum on <600cc bikes. The Adv bike route is suitable for Lower Intermediates on smaller DS bikes, Intermediates on <600cc, Advanced riders on <850cc bikes, and Experts on Twins.

Countdown Day-Loop Rides

With the exception of “Short Loops”, the Countdown Day-Loop rides (rides that come back to the start each day) are intended for very experienced Intermediate riders. They usually do not get far from paved roads so if you get in over your head, it is possible to bail to a paved road and get back to the start. The Long DS Loops are not for 1st time Dual Sport event riders, we get many 1st time riders that quit after the first day. 1st timer riders should start with an Adv bike Route and/or Short Loops, then move up to the Long DS Loops.

Countdown Point-to-Point Rides

Point-to-Point rides have a very high level of risk. If you are unable to make it to the overnight, you have a problem with your overnight bag. The days are VERY long, most of the route is far from paved roads, cell service is marginal, and any rescue is very difficult. On many long sections, there is no bail-out, you must finish the section. There are no “Sweep” riders, you and your buddy are totally on your own!

For these reasons:

All riders must enter with, ride with, & be responsible for at least 1 Buddy. No single riders Accepted! You must be able to be towed by or tow your buddy for many miles. To enter, you must have ridden at least 2 Countdown or other 2-Day Dual Sport rides, or have been an experienced Enduro, Desert, or MX Racer.

Legacy Countdown Point-to-Point riders can “Sponsor” a 1st time Countdown rider, but they must certify the rider’s capability and be totally responsible for that rider.
